Executive Summary

The Listos California Emergency Preparedness Campaign was established in Spring 2019 as a two-year effort to educate the most vulnerable Californians – older adults, people with disabilities, those living in poverty, and people with language barriers. Educational materials were developed to be culturally and linguistically accessible. Local community-based organizations (CBOs) utilized these materials to educate local community members who reflected the most vulnerable populations of their county. While the original goal was to reach one million Californians, the campaign reached over 3.8 million and successfully partnered with over 300 CBOs and volunteer and service teams. Listos California was successful in reaching vulnerable communities to provide emergency preparedness information and resources.

To build upon the achievements of the Campaign, Governor Newsom and the State Legislature included a $25 million ongoing General Fund appropriation in the 2021-22 Budget Act to the California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES). The funding supports a statewide grant program that utilizes the information and techniques developed through the Campaign. This funding allows Cal OES to continue partnering with CBOs and tribes and to support Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) efforts in providing not only preparedness but also response and recovery operations that support equity and outreach efforts for marginalized and underserved communities across the State.

Introduction

The activities identified in this report describe projects and engagements as of June 1, 2023, through December 1, 2023. These funds were used to the benefit of the people of California for a range of essential activities including more active engagement in multiple preparedness initiatives, such as the Great California Shake Out drill at multiple locations, as well as disaster preparedness messaging at annual charity concerts, monthly food distribution events, and other community events. Funding provided unhoused individuals and those within the Section 8 Housing Programs with curated kits with hygiene items and Listos California emergency resource materials. This innovative effort of combining resource materials with tangible items was found to provide more holistic support to both homeless and Section 8 residents reached by the CBO who received this funding, allowing the CBO to navigate its challenges more effectively. This funding also allowed a federally recognized tribe to design and publish a disaster preparedness webpage to better prepare their members for potential disasters. This is only a fraction of the successful outcomes from the Fiscal Year (FY) 2022-23 Listos California Grant Program.

Reporting Requirements

Pursuant to the California Budget Act of 2022 (Senate Bill 154), section 2.00, item 0690-101-0001 provision 5, Cal OES is required to provide a report to the Legislature on the expenditure of Listos California Grant Program funds, no later than February 1, 2024. The report must identify:

1. How funds were allocated;
2. What methods of outreach the Office of Equity used to inform eligible entities of the funding;
3. The entity or community that received the funding; and
4. A description of projects funded.

The period of performance for the FY 2022-23 Listos California Grant Program is June 1, 2023, through December 31, 2024.

Fund Allocation

Of the total $25 million General Fund appropriation, Cal OES allocated $7.5 million for continued communications management and training, $2 million for philanthropy grant writing and technical assistance, and the remaining $15.5 million to local CBOs, tribes, and CERT programs following the breakdown below:

- $6 million to targeted CBOs – CBO partners serving the most socially vulnerable Californians at risk for adverse impacts from natural disasters were permitted to apply for up to $300,000 on a competitive basis. Award amounts were based on the number of engagements a CBO committed to accomplish during the Grant Subaward performance period.
- $8 million to statewide CBOs – CBO partners serving communities statewide to support the same general activities as the targeted were permitted to apply for up to $500,000 on a competitive basis. Award amounts were based on the number of engagements a CBO committed to accomplish during the Grant Subaward performance period.
- $1 million to California federally recognized tribes – Tribes could apply for up to $200,000 on a competitive basis. Award amounts were not based on engagements.

- $500,000 to CERT programs – CERT programs could apply for up to $25,000 on a competitive basis. Award amounts were not based on engagements.
- $7.5 million for continued communications management and training – This funding was used to continue the development of a multilingual paid media campaign that amplifies the work being done by CBOs through targeted paid media outreach; to pursue partnerships with trusted media sources for communities most impacted by disasters; to develop strategic partnerships to further reach into targeted communities and cross-promote messages targeting similar audiences; to create and promote Listos California resources; to update and distribute campaign materials; to provide ongoing public access to the Listos California website; and to provide general project management support to ensure complementary activities and overall accountability.
- $2 million for grant writing support – This funding was used to support organizations seeking to apply for grants. Assistance consists of multilingual and multicultural workshops around the State, webinars, educational toolkits, and one-on-one support to potential grantees in California. Funding was also provided to host a website and provide organizational support for grants created for disaster preparedness, mitigation, response, and recovery, focusing on equity and communities.

Outreach Efforts

Listos California is housed under the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (ODEI) within the Cal OES Executive Office. Cal OES launched a successful campaign focused on equitable access to Listos California Grants. Outreach efforts included advertising on the Cal OES website Search for Grants page and the California State Library's California Grants Portal. To expand our reach to Californians in marginalized and underserved communities, ODEI worked in coordination with the Cal OES Office of Tribal Coordination. All federally recognized tribes in California were sent email notifications highlighting Listos California Grant opportunities. Similarly, CERT programs, legislative officials, and CBO stakeholders were sent email notifications. Furthermore, a press release was placed on the Cal OES website and solicitation announcements were posted on all Cal OES social media outlets. A live webinar training was provided to potential applicants on how to understand the components of the grant Request for Proposal and how to complete application forms. A recording of the webinar was placed on the Cal OES website for those who were unable to attend.

Innovative approaches to expand and embed equity into the program are being implemented every year. The latest initiatives include supporting new and small CBOs that may be unfamiliar with the grant process. The Listos California grant funded a philanthropic organization to provide an overview and training on grant writing. To support diversity in the emergency management workforce, Listos California developed a grant opportunity targeting youth in under-represented communities. Lastly, but importantly, to strengthen communities' preparedness capacity, Listos California program staff stay connected to the grantees and the communities they serve through monthly virtual engagements, coordinating and supporting community events, and organizing listening sessions to provide CBOs the opportunity to speak openly about unmet needs and ways for Cal OES to provide additional support.

Entities/Communities Receiving Funding

The Listos California Grant Program is comprised of four (4) grant programs, each with a different focus. All programs are united in achieving the Listos California goal of reaching millions of Californians who otherwise would not have access to lifesaving emergency preparedness information and providing tools to help vulnerable Californians not only survive but also thrive post-disaster.

Listos California Target Grant Program (Target):

Supports organizations throughout California that serve smaller populations with key social vulnerability factors located in any given area at moderate to high risk from natural hazards. Community-based organizations throughout the State, referred to as CBOs, can work independently or subgrant with local CBOs to provide disaster training and resources to vulnerable and diverse populations. This work is intended to increase their communities' disaster preparedness, response, recovery, and mitigation capabilities.

Listos California Statewide Grant Program (Statewide):

Supports organizations throughout California that serve multiple counties and/or larger populations with key social vulnerability factors located in areas at moderate to high risk from natural hazards. Community-based organizations throughout the State, referred to as CBOs, can work independently or subgrant with local CBOs to provide disaster training and resources to vulnerable and diverse populations. This work is intended to increase their communities' disaster preparedness, response, recovery, and mitigation capabilities.

Listos California Tribal Grant Program (Tribal):

Supports federally recognized tribes located in California that serve populations in areas at moderate to high risk from natural hazards. Tribal governments can work independently, with other tribal governments, or with local CBOs to provide disaster training and resources to vulnerable and diverse populations. This work is intended to increase their communities' disaster preparedness, response, recovery, and mitigation capabilities.

Listos California CERT Support Grant Program (CERT):

Provides funding to new and existing CERT programs to support projects that help prepare vulnerable and underserved populations.

Conclusion

Continuation of the Listos California Grant Program ensures that communities disproportionately impacted by disaster are included in the disaster preparedness conversation. To date, just over 2.8 million vulnerable Californians – older adults, people with disabilities, people living in poverty, and people with language barriers – have been reached and are better able to prepare for, withstand, and recover from disaster.

This successful program has improved collaboration amongst CBOs and volunteer and service teams in our most vulnerable communities. This network of support has resulted in building stronger relationships, better visibility, and knowledge sharing which will continue to benefit these communities, resulting in a more resilient California.
